

Module Five

This is it. This is where the rubber meets the road. This is where you make things happen. We've done four other modules and hopefully you've done them all up till now as well as all the exercises. It's really important that you follow through with everything in this program, including listening to the AM and PM activations for financial abundance.

Following everything in this program to a tee, including listening to those activations, you'll be amazed at the results you will have in your life, not only around money, which is our main focus but in every area of your life. I highly encourage you to make sure that you don't start this module until you've done the other four.

What's interesting is that we're going to take you from whatever you're making right now financially and take you here. That's what this entire program has been about. It's about focusing on the inner game and on the outer game. It's really about bringing it all together and being able to move forward and manifest incredible things in your life, to finally achieve that financial freedom that would make you happy, that you truly deserve. This is it!

First, I think it's important that I share with you how I generate multiple sources of income. I talked about that in module four. The top percentage of people who make most of the money on the planet do so because they generate multiple sources of income. There aren't many people out there that just do a 9 to 5 job, if any, that are millionaires. It's hard, unless they have things on the side or they were born into money or they won a lottery or they have an inheritance, which is all great stuff too, but if that's not your situation, the best way to do it is to generate multiple sources of income.

Therefore, what I want to share with you is what I do; because some of you want to do what I do to begin with, or similar to what I do. So I'm going to share with you how I make my money. I make seven figures a year plus in my business, so this will give you an idea. However, it doesn't mean you need to do this, because after I share this I'm going to share with you a lot of different ideas, that hopefully will trigger some ideas in your mind.

At this point you've just written 10, if you've done the exercise and I'm hoping you did, because it's super important. Remember, this is your life and you're taking action to make things happen. The last exercise in module four was that you needed to find 10 ways to make new money. It may have been difficult it may not, but expanding your mind to see all the different ways that you can make money is a huge way to expand yourself and allow yourself to open up to receive money.

So, just because I asked you to find 10 ways doesn't mean I want you to do all 10 things. I hope you didn't pick 10 things that are small, because there's no way you could do 10 big things. The truth is you have to do what feels right for you, like if it's something that's very deep within you and you're very passionate about it, than remember it won't feel like work. Only you know what's best for you.

I'll be giving you other ideas so there may (a) be something there you'd be interested in or (b) it might trigger some ideas in other areas and then we'll have an exercise at the end, of course, to finish this off.

Okay, how I generate my income. First, as many of you know, I'm an author. I have a couple books in bookstores right now. One is called The Law of Attraction, Plain and Simple; Create the Extraordinary Life You Deserve. The second is called Unsinkable; How to Bounce Back Quickly When Life Knocks You Down. The two books are published in a variety of languages and sold around the world. I've never counted, but they're sold everywhere from Indonesia, Korea, India, Germany and everywhere else. It's super exciting.

Writing a Book

Therefore my messages are getting out there in the world. I get royalties because I was published by a publisher, but you don't need a publisher to publish a book and I'll talk about that soon. That's one idea: writing a book. You can have a publisher, it just takes one a while to get one and after you finish writing the book it can take a year or better before it's even in bookstores. There are pros and cons to both traditional and self-publishing.

Self-publishing is good because you get more money per book in your pocket when you sell one, but when you publish with a publisher, especially if it's a high profile publisher, you make a lot less per book but they're able to get your books out and seen more around the world, as well as getting publishers around the world to buy the rights to your book in their language and that kind of thing.

You need to figure out which works better for you. The easiest is self-publishing where you can write a book in three days and upload it to Kindle to start selling it.

Another way I make money is affiliate marketing and this is a huge portion of my income. If you've been on my list for a while you'll know I have promoted various affiliate marketing products, even products that teach you how to do affiliate marketing. The main reason I do that and offer it is because I know this works. So, if you're able to build a list, build a community you will then be able to create a relationship with this community and then offer them great offers, products, services and you'll get a commission.

I have built a huge community along with a huge platform, so with this alone I'm pretty sure I'll be making seven figures just in affiliate marketing this year, which is pretty amazing. If anyone tells you it doesn't work it's probably someone who didn't do it properly or started it and gave up. What this means is, I'm not saying that if you do affiliate marketing: building a list, a community and then promoting things to them, that you'll be making seven figures.

It took me a long time to actually build the community I've created, but that doesn't mean you can't make $1000 a month just doing that or even $5000 a month, depending on how big your mailing list is. You may start with 2000, 5000 or 10k and slowly build, but it's definitely an easy source of income for you because you don't have to leave home to do it. You can do it at night, before going to a full-time job, etc. It's very easy.

I create products, that's another source of income. All mine are digital, except for my books. I have no physical products, which means they're all virtual and online. I have the Unsinkable Bounce Back System, and I have this course as well which I sell through telesummits, teleseminars, etc. I do most of my selling online and the best way to do that is by offering great value to people. To me it's always been about helping people and if I can also make a great living helping people I'm in heaven because it's perfect as a win-win for everyone.

I do webinars and there are various ways of getting traffic to your website to sell your programs.

I also make money on investments, but that's not a huge thing for me. I know nothing about investing. I'm in Canada so we have RSPs. I used to have RSPs and I cashed them all in because I needed the money back when I was having financial problems and now I'm back to having RSPs again which is great. To be honest, the percentage you get for interest is so low that to me it's not really even worth it. The only reason I do it is because I get to save on taxes. I don't know if it's like that in the U.S., but in Canada if you buy $20k in RSPs than you save taxes on $20k of your income that year.

Something else where I also make great and easy passive money is that my business is all in U.S. dollars and I live in Canada, so I do the foreign exchange investment kind of thing where all my business is in the U.S. and then when I have to pay myself to pay bills, etc. I pay myself; I take $10k U.S. and then convert it to Canadian. The U.S. dollar right now is higher than the Canadian dollar, so at one point let's say it's 8% so right off the bat if I moved over $10k I'd make $800 profit and that's good money, compared to the 401k or RSPs where they only give you 2% over a year. That's just extra money which accumulates over time.

Another way I make money is speaking. What's interesting is because of modern technology today you don't have to be on a stage. You can do it behind a computer. You can do it on a phone. I remember in 2012 I was interviewed on well over 50 different telesummits talking about Unsinkable, because that was my big thing and it still is.

I was able to pick up a phone, dial in and the host interviews you, and at the end of the interview you offer your program. For those of you who want to continue this work and really dig deep, I have a great program, this is what it is and you give them a link to your site and they go buy it.

I used to spend a ton of time speaking on stages, traveling. When I was first getting started I was speaking at corporate companies, which we call lunch and learns. I would go to the company and put together these professional media kits that are easy to do and don't cost a lot to get done. I would send it to corporations and tell them I'd like to do a lunch and learn at your company and this is the topic I'd like to talk about. It could be on anything that their employees might be interested in.

It could be on weight loss, fitness, personal development, living your greatest life and all types of varying topics, including lowering your blood pressure or whatever your expertise is, you can do that. That's how I started. I also did live events at libraries. Recently I was on a massive stage alongside Bob Proctor, so over time things have gotten bigger, but my biggest thing right now is online speaking.

Webinars is another great newer technology. My team and I have done several webinar launches, and at one point within a three week period we had 97,000 people registered for my Unsinkable webinar. There are a lot of people going through difficult times, so if you happen to be one of those people, don't worry you're not alone. This too shall pass and great things are waiting for you around the corner and in fact, they have just arrived because you're here.

I wanted you to know the different sources of income that I'm making now for me, in order to make seven figures as I mentioned.

Let's figure out 21 ways now on how you can make new money yourself. I'm not saying you have to do 21 things. As you saw I do a few things and some of them bring me a little money and some bring me a lot of money, but it doesn't matter it all adds up in the end.

1. Writing a Book

Writing your own book. I would say that 85% of the population has a book inside them, if not everyone, but oftentimes it seems as though everyone wants to write one, which is exciting. It's one way to bring in extra income. Nowadays it's so easy to write a book and upload it to Kindle as an eBook, it doesn't even have to be a physical book. There are many courses available to teach you how to do this.

Again, resources available to you are Google, YouTube, various things you can use to research and find out the best way to do it. As time goes on I'll have a resource section inside this program and every time I come across something great I'll put it there, so be sure to check it regularly. Going back, writing a book is a great way to make extra income and yes you actually have to write the book originally, but once it's done then its passive income and its just in there and you can send traffic, promote it on Facebook, get your friends to promote it.

Then it will start going viral and then people start going to your page to buy it. There are a variety of marketing ways to do it, but that is one way.

2. Affiliate Marketing

What's great about affiliate marketing is that you can do it anywhere around the world. You can go on vacation, to Hawaii, be at the cottage, anywhere as long as you have Internet connection and I'm not sure where you are, but here in Canada I have this thing called the Rogers Rocket that I carry with me everywhere I go. Anywhere I go I have Internet, so if I'm at my parents' house or in the car as a passenger, then I have access to the Internet and that's what's exciting about that.

So affiliate marketing is basically you building a mailing list, a mailing list which is really a community. You might have one already and there are many different ways you can build this list. Then, as you're building this list then slowly but surely, you start promoting things to them. Affiliate marketing is a phenomenal way to share great stuff with people in your community as well as a great way to make money; however, I want to mention that you have to promise me for those just starting out, whatever you decide to promote to your community that you check out what you're promoting, that you're 1000% in integrity and you're only promoting amazing great things.

The bottom line is before you promote anything, before clicking the send button or send an email to anyone on your new mailing list, always ask yourself whatever is written in this email, would I send this to my friends and family members? Then I reread it and go wow, that doesn't sound very personal. I wouldn't say that to my friends.

That's why when you receive my emails they have a much more personal feel to them. The bottom line is that there are human beings behind that email and sometimes people forget that. So whatever it is, I want you to feel good about doing it. When I find something really amazing, and sometimes it's really only just a free webinar and what's great is that all you're promoting is the free webinar, and then when that person is presenting the free webinar at the end they're usually selling something for anyone looking to do deeper work and then you get commission on whatever they sell.

It's through a special link called an affiliate link and there are many types of affiliate programs out there to teach you how to do this. It's not hard to do. It may seem a little overwhelming at first if you've never had a website before, but you can do it. You can even hire someone to do it for you. Again, check the resources section because I'm going to do my best to get as many programs in there as possible so you can see which resonate with you.

3. Start a Blog

This is another way. If you have any passions, something you're so passionate about that you'd love to share your ideas with others around the world. Now that we have the Internet what's amazing is you can reach people everywhere. The world has gotten much smaller at this point, and you can even make money with a blog. Guess what happens in a blog? You can build a list in a blog, because you'll have an opt-in box that states to enter a name and email address, which you're collecting to build your list.

Therefore, blogging is a great way to build a community, to build your list, to sell using affiliate links right inside your copy, whatever article it is you're writing about. I get people blogging about the Unsinkable Bounce Back System, but what they're blogging about is my webinar. You should attend this webinar, it's great. She talks about the three steps and it's an affiliate link they click on, register for and if they show up to the webinar and end up buying the program than the person who referred that individual to the webinar will receive a commission from that purchase.

I'm mentioning these things I know, and you may be saying Sonia please explain how to blog. Each one of these is a course on its own. I'm just giving you ideas, so you might say that sounds like fun I want to learn how to do that, and then it's up to you to take action and start researching various programs free and paid. There are great articles to teach you about blogging. It's up to you to get out there. I will offer things as I see them, but I want you to take the initiative to think outside the box, step outside the box and live outside the box. Take action and move forward.

4. Sell Your Own Information Product

This is an information product that teaches people how to do something. It's that simple. If you have expertise in some specific area... meditation, dog training, health industry, fitness, massage, fix-it, etc... and you put together a product with your expertise and teach people. You can see ClickBank and this is a marketplace where people can go to upload your program and sell it there, as well as becoming an affiliate marketer for products within ClickBank.

I personally don't use ClickBank, we do it all ourselves internally, but it's a great way to go if you don't want a merchant account and all that kind of stuff. You basically create your own website and then you set it up in ClickBank where all types of affiliate marketers go to look for products. For example, maybe you have a law of attraction product that you put together. You can upload it to your sales page to ClickBank and then the affiliates will look up law of attraction, pick your product and will start promoting your product.

You have to share a percentage with ClickBank, but I know tons of people that use it and it's very effective. Again, there are programs available to teach you how to do this, even ClickBank type programs to show you how to get it on ClickBank.

5. Be a Speaker

I mentioned this earlier and some of you may not know what to speak about, but again you would be speaking about a passion, something you love. You may even be thinking that you're not an expert in anything, which of course I don't believe, but let's say that is what you're thinking. I gave this advice to my brother recently.

I told him, "If you want to be an expert in something this is what you do. You pick a topic that you absolutely love and are passionate about, it could be anything. It could be on Reiki. Maybe it's on massage, healing, meditation, consulting, sales, life coaching, whatever it is you're passionate about. Go to the bookstore or library and find five books on that exact topic and then you go home and read all five books. You are now an expert."

I know that sounds crazy but the reason I'm saying you're an expert is because what you just read, five full books on one topic, then you already know more than 95% of the population on that topic. That's how simple it is. This is where you get started. Do the research to become the expert in that area. So you read five books, you learn all about it, now let's put something together. Over time you can read more and more books, learn more about it and then you make it your own and continue to move forward. This is how you become an expert.

Once you become an expert then you can become a speaker and find different places to speak. Sometimes they pay you to speak, sometimes it's a lot, sometimes it's a little and sometimes they don't pay you, but then remember if you're writing a book then you can sell the book at the back of the room, which helps you make extra money there. Maybe there's a product you created and you turn it into a CD package put together, you can sell that as well.

6. Become a Life Coach

I've done many of these things, including number six. I'm not a life coach anymore, but that's how I began in 2006. I started as a life coach. I loved motivating people to live their greatest lives and just watching them one-by-one achieve greatness in their lives and so many areas of their lives was so fulfilling that I decided I wanted to do it on a much bigger level, rather than one-on-one, I wanted to do many thousands on one.

That is what I do now, but becoming a life coach is very fulfilling and they actually get paid very well. There are life coaches out there that charge $200 an hour or more and maybe you won't charge that when you first get started, but whatever it is its still decent money and even if you have five sessions a week right off the bat that's $500 or $1000, depending on how much you're charging per week for five hours.

7. Make Stuff and Sell It

Again I'm throwing out different ideas on new ways to make money to see if any resonates with you. If you like making stuff, if you're creative and I know several people, many of whom are my friends that are very creative and artistic. If you like making jewelry or pottery there are sites where you can sell your stuff. My first suggestion would be Etsy.com. You can create whatever it is, take a photo of it and upload it to the site, tell them what you're selling it for and they buy it on the site, you get the order and you ship it to the purchaser. Once the transaction clears you are paid by Etsy.

I haven't used it myself, but I know it's a big trend now, where you can basically sell anything you make and put it on the site and it will get a lot of traffic.

8. Teaching or Tutoring Services

Do you have any special services you can offer? Maybe it's tutoring math, reading, typing or how to play an instrument. Whatever it is you can advertise your independent services through word of mouth or Craigslist, and even finding an online tutor finding service like wyzant.com. You need to research, find the area of interest where you want to create new money and learn as much as you can about the topic and how to do it.

You have to do what successful people do to be successful. Don't just do it like, well she wrote a book so I'll make millions like she did. I'll write a book and put it on Kindle and it will work. No, you need to know how that person made that kind of money, exactly what they did. They didn't just write a book. They wrote a book and did other stuff. It's important to really learn it the right way. In this case, with teaching and tutoring, there are so many ways to advertise and get new clients and customers, it's the same thing as I said before.

You could put it up at the grocery store or library. I see signs everywhere. You just need a few extra clients per week or per month and you're making extra money there. Again, some of these things are a lot of money and some aren't so much, but you pick whatever you want and when you begin adding them up together at the end of the year it's a lot of money.

9. Consulting

This is also a great way to earn money. If you have any kind of expertise from a profession that you're currently doing or have previously done, I've done this as well. I've been around for a while and have done lots of stuff. I used to work in the fitness industry, 7 years, managing health clubs. At one point I managed five downtown Toronto clubs at a time, so I know how to turn clubs around, so if there were any clubs that were doing poorly sales and business-wise, the company would send me to those clubs to manage them, turn them around and make them profitable and then I'd move on.

That's a pretty good expertise to have and it's niched. Now, I only worked in the fitness industry for a year because after a while I realized that wasn't my true passion. I created a consulting company called Club Training Forum, where I would go into health clubs that were suffering and teach them how to turn things around. They paid me good money, so think about what you can do. It was exciting for me because I created my own business for the first time and people actually wanted my services.

10. Become a Mystery Shopper

This is so bizarre. Do you know that there are mystery shopper companies that regular companies hire to shop their employees? This is to uphold their customer service. They want to see how customers are being treated, so they send mystery shoppers in to check things out.

Can you imagine getting paid to shop? You can be a mystery shopper over the phone or in person where you're going into a store/company and that kind of stuff. I've never done this, but I've been on the other side of a mystery shopper, because in the fitness industry they used to always send mystery shoppers to my clubs, where you'd get this long report explaining their experience at your business, who the employee was, what they said and how they were treated. They were rated 1 out of 10 in different areas and every time I received that mystery shopper envelope my knees would shake and I would pray that it was okay, because it would always go to the head office.

It sounds like a fun thing to do, not to have done to you but just to do.

11. Freelance - depending on your expertise

What are you good at?
Are you good at writing?
Are you great at graphic design?

There are so many different things. You can make extra money simply by freelancing your services, whatever they may be. Often freelance jobs are done from home. Maybe you're an expert in social media. Maybe you have managed to get 100,000 people on your Facebook fan page and you have this expertise that everybody who does what you do or who has a fan page would love to learn. All of a sudden you could offer your services, and that could also be a product for you.

You can offer services to help people increase their fan page likes. Maybe you're a programmer and you want to freelance your services for that.

12. Photography

The reason I mention this is it doesn't matter if you aren't good at photography you can always learn how to be great at photography by just taking a course, so don't let obstacles stand in your way. You buy a camera and take a course. You take good pictures and you are now a photographer. You can freelance as a photographer, start your own business. You can become a photographer for weddings, parties, portraits and there's another side of photography where you can upload your pictures to stock photography sites like iStockphoto.com. I go there all the time and buy pictures.

You simply upload your pictures and once they're up if someone buys your pictures from that site you're paid a percentage of the sales.

I had to put this in because I'm a dog lover and I've always said that if I wasn't doing what I'm doing now and was figuring out a way to make money I would be a dog walker. I would actually be more than that though, because I'd probably have a dog walking business and hire other dog walkers to walk dogs as well. So I would walk dogs because I love them, but I would also hire 10 others to be dog walkers and get them to have clients and they are paid by the hour which is where my profit comes from.

I'm throwing things out there to show you how many different ways you can make new money. You might just want to do it on weekends or do it to help people who are on vacation and you take in their animals. I personally, every time I travel, I leave my dog with someone because I don't feel comfortable dropping the dog off at a kennel. For me it doesn't feel good. He's never been in a case since I've had him. If he's been crated in the past that's different, but to my knowledge he hasn't and I love the fact that I can leave my dog with somebody trustworthy.

13. Sell Your Clutter on eBay.

Again, I'm just throwing stuff out where you can make money fast. Again, you can make a lot of money that will take a while to put together, write a book... by the way, you can write a book fast it doesn't have to take years. I actually wrote The Law of Attraction in two weeks. It was the most lucrative 12 days of my life. It was downloaded and I dedicated that time to write this book. It came through very quickly, whereas, Unsinkable took two years. I took more time writing that because it was a very deep book. It deals with people going through very difficult times, so it was important for me to dig deep and truly get that message out.

With The Law of Attraction, I obviously dug deep in that but it's not as personal and therefore it wasn't as difficult to write. Don't think it will take years to write a book, you can do it in three days if you want and it doesn't even have to be a long book, it could be 25 pages.

If you have a lot of stuff but not a lot of money then consider getting rid of your stuff. Clutter isn't good because it has negative energy. So, if you're living or working around clutter it's time to clear that up because that definitely has energy. You want to be around positive energy, so you want space and openness. If you read up on Feng Shui, clutter is not good. Why not sell it on eBay? You simply create an account, take a picture of what you're selling, you upload it, people bid on it, the highest bidder wins and then you ship it to them and get paid. It's very simple.

14. Garage Sale.

If you don't want to do eBay then you can do the old fashioned garage sale. You don't make as much money with this, but the two good things is that first you're giving stuff away so you're getting rid of clutter and if you have a lot of stuff, and I remember before we lost the house we knew we were walking away from the house and we decided to sell what we didn't want to keep. We knew what we were keeping when we left. We sold so much and in one day we sold over $2000.

We sold a ton of stuff and that's one way of making money fast, no question. So again if you're in a position where you need to make money fast, get rid of the stuff you have.

15. Rent Out a Spare Room

If you have a home or apartment with an extra room that's another opportunity to make money if that resonates with you. Bottom line is, depending on where you live in New York or wherever where it's super expensive, you can make anywhere from $250 to $1000 a month depending on where you live and what your house is like and that adds up at the end of the year.

16. Offer Services

For instance, maybe gardening is a big thing for you, you're great at it and people are always saying how beautiful your garden is and you just have such a passion for it. Why don't you turn that into a company? Offer those services to your neighbors and right off the bat you'll get some clients. Simply advertise around your neighborhood. Maybe it's lawn maintenance or even shoveling snow.

New money is what we're looking at, so take note that these are just ideas I'm throwing out here. Think outside the box.

17. Ask Your Boss for a Raise

What's interesting is, and we're trying to figure out ways to make money when all we have to do is ask. What's the worst they can do? Say no. As long as you come from a place of love when you go ask them and have a good argument where it's like, I've been working here for three years, I love it here and want to continue and I've put 200% into this job so I was wondering if there's a possibility of getting a raise in my salary, and then be quiet.

Every time you ask for "the sale" you be quiet and wait for the other person to reply, because during that silence they are thinking about what to say to you. The longer the silence the better, because usually when the silence is longer the answer is yes. If they say no that's fine, but at least you tried. One thing for sure is if you don't ask, chances are you aren't going to get it.

18. Rent Out Your Parking Spot

This is a little weird but I actually did this when I first moved to Toronto. I had a parking space but didn't have a car or maybe you have a car and you can park it somewhere else, meanwhile you can rent your spot and make extra money. I rented my parking spot for $150 a month. This was in 1994 and today it's probably worth $500 a month because I'm in the heart of downtown Toronto. I was doing that for a while until I bought a car and then I needed the spot because of my location.

19. Taking Surveys

I haven't actually done this but I've heard that people actually get paid to take surveys. There are companies that pay you to do these surveys, so you might want to look into that. How hard can that be to take a survey?

20. Be a Virtual Assistant

What's great about this is you're working from home, so if you're a stay-at-home mom or you're retired and you want to make a little extra money, you can become a virtual assistant. Normally you would need some organizational skills and other administration duties like making calls, booking appointments, etc. I used to have a virtual assistant and now that person is my operations manager.

This is an up and coming profession. There are virtual assistant companies available or maybe you want to create a virtual assistant company where you hire others and you're offering that service to those who need those services. Look it up online, find different ways and learn more about it.

That's it. Those are the 20 ways, sample examples.

I'm putting together a resources page for you, so keep going back to the program to see what shows up on that page. I'll continue adding more and more, so over the upcoming months you'll see more resources in there as time goes on. Make sure you check that out in the program.

Let's end with an exercise. I'm not letting you off the hook yet, because this is it and it's time to make things happen.

This is the exercise. Up till now, in the last module I asked you to find 10 new ways to make money, but I'm only asking you to choose three now. You've thought of many different ways and I just gave you many different crazy ideas, some crazier than others, some you rolled your eyes at and others still that you wouldn't have thought of, etc. I wanted to tell you how many different ideas you could come up with, and I hope this triggered some of your own ideas.

I want you to choose three ways to make new money.

→ Create a solid action plan and take action now.

If three feels overwhelming to you I would still choose three and then start on one. You can do three over a year, but you need to start somewhere, so if writing a book is your first thing then do that and create a solid action plan around that. What I always say is to start with the end in mind.

When do you want this book finished, published or up on Kindle? If you say I want this done in two months and then you pick an actual date then you move back and ask yourself what you need to do to ensure that you get it done in two months.

If you put together your plan for your book and you know how many chapters there will be, for example, let's say there are six chapters in the book; you need six weeks to write it, two weeks to have it edited formatted and put onto Kindle, that gives you a lot of time. You know if you have six chapters to write that maybe you can write one chapter a week. If you have 12 chapters then you know you need to write two chapters a week, if you want to get it done in six weeks, get it formatted, edited and up on Kindle.

Take action and make sure that every day you are taking one step at a time, everyday going forward towards your goal and eventually you'll get there.

That's the bottom line. Not just talking, but taking those ideas and plans from the someday shelf and putting it on the today shelf. I'm asking you to choose three ways, and I'm hoping that you are committed to making this happen. I've been committed to creating this program for you and I know if you follow everything in the program and start taking action now to make new money, as well as elevating your vibration and shifting your mindset, the money will begin flowing easily, freely and from everywhere.

Print the poster several times. Be sure to continue listening to the AM and PM activations for financial abundance. This is something you'll want forever, not just for short periods. You'll be listening to it all the time. It's a great way to elevate your vibration and allow yourself to open up to receive. So when you're feeling closed, like restrained, this opens you up and that's what you want. You don't want anything sabotaging your success around money. This will help.

You know what you want to do and you know which ideas will make more money than others. The bottom line is to create multiple streams of income so you can achieve the financial abundance you want and make sure you choose things you're passionate about so you don't feel like you're working extra. Hopefully you're picking things that you have to put more effort in, as well as picking things that are more passive.

You know that once you wrote that book, that that's passive income coming to you later and as you move forward you'll create additional passive income streams, and then a year from now you have all these different areas where money is coming to you. Some will be small while others are bigger, but in the end it turns into a lot of money.

I wish you all the luck in the world. At this point you don't need luck because now you have the tools and strategies to make this happen. I wish you all the best and as always I'm sending you lots of love and light. Take care.
